TOOLSTATION STORE ARRIVES IN CONSETT

Toolstation, one of the UK's fastest growing and largest suppliers of tools and more opened its Consett store on Monday 10th August, bringing the Toolstation experience to local trade and DIY customers.

Toolstation's new catalogue recently launched, bringing a range of new top brands and quality products at great prices in store and online, demonstrating Toolstation's commitment to conveniently and easily provide trade, DIYers and homebuilders with tools and more to tackle any task.

The opening of the new store has created seven new jobs in the area, and is the latest store opening as part of Toolstation's ambitious expansion plan to roll out 60 more stores across the UK by the end of 2020.

Toolstation's multi-channel service means customers can conveniently purchase the essentials they need from stores directly or through their click-and-collect service, with most products available within 5 minutes after purchase.

The knowledgeable store team is also on hand with expert advice and reliable service.

The safety and wellbeing of Toolstation's colleagues, customers and communities remains the top priority. The store will operate a 1m social distancing policy. A dedicated colleague will monitor the door and queuing system, and all colleagues will be provided with PPE.

Store manager Stephen West comments: “We are pleased to be opening the new store and supporting local tradespeople DIYers and home builders with tools and more in Consett. We recognise the importance of challenging times and our knowledgeable team are committed to providing local customers with a reliable and convenient service for the essentials they need to tackle any task.”

Linden Park forms part of the Number One Industrial Estate, owned by Northern Trust. Barry Nelson, Regional Property Manager at Whittle Jones agents acting on behalf of Northern Trust added “We are pleased to welcome Toolstation to Consett, and given the current economic climate it’s great to see them investing in the area and creating new jobs. We wish them all the best in their new premises.”

Toolstation Consett will be open seven days a week, from 7am to 8pm Monday to Friday, 7am to 7pm Saturday and 9am to 4pm Sundays.
